Everyone loves gingerbread houses. Big or small, traditional or whimsical, these fantasy creations have been warming the holidays and making people smile since the 1800s, when they originated in Germany. The Garden places this tradition front-and-center at its annual WinterShow, where these edible edifices delight guests young and old each year. You'll feel your heart warming as you gaze at every candy cane lamppost, graham cracker shingle and gumdrop keystone.

Some of the other festivities that await you include:

- The WinterShow Tree
- Live holiday music*
- A festive floral carpet made of colorful holiday plants
- More than 30 trees decorated by our Affiliate Garden Clubs in the theme of children's stories
- "Mrs. Claus' Spice Shop" Children's Area
- A modern menorah on the Geis Terrace
- Seasonal treats in the Garden Café
- Holiday shopping and unique gifts in the Garden Store

It's a Cleveland holiday tradition. Make it your family's.

* 11:00 am, 1:00 pm and 3:00 pm on weekends and between Christmas and New Year's.

See cbgarden.org/holiday tunes for complete schedule.

* Closed Mondays, Christmas and New Year's Day.

ORCHID MANIA

This Side of Paradise

February 11 – March 25

Tuesdays – Saturdays: 10:00 am – 5:00 pm

Sundays: Noon – 5:00 pm

Closed Mondays

Free with Garden Admission

The orchid has long been celebrated for its variety of colors, shapes and sizes, all of which combine bright opulence with subtle sensuality, attributes shared with the luxurious optimism and speakeasy underworld that ruled our culture during the roaring 1920s. The Garden celebrates these parallels during Orchid Mania: This Side of Paradise – a jazz age sendup of all things flappers and Phalenopsis.

Renowned exhibit designer Tres Fromme and the Garden staff have drawn on the spirit of the 1920s to create an art-deco inspired setting for hundreds of specimens of nature's most alluring flower – the orchid.
